On the basis of paragraph two of Article 23 of the Rules on student accommodation (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia, No. 218/26) and Article paragraph two of Article 49 of the Temporary Protection of Displaced Persons Act (Official Journal of the RS, No 22/25) on the extension of temporary protection as introduced by Council Implementing Decision (EU) 2022/382 the student dormitories from the higher education centres in Ljubljana, Maribor and Koper publish a

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS for the accommodation of short-cycle higher education and higher education students with the status of a person with temporary protection in student dormitories for the 2026/2027 study year

Content of the call for applications

- I. Conditions to be met by a student with the status of a person with temporary protection for subsidised accommodation
- II. Awarding of subsidy
- III. Application for admission
- IV. Application for extension
- V. Notification of students
- VI. Planned number of vacancies for accommodation of students with the status of a person with temporary protection in individual higher education centres
- VII. Addresses of student dormitory offices

I. CONDITIONS TO BE MET BY A STUDENT WITH THE STATUS OF A PERSON WITH TEMPORARY PROTECTION FOR SUBSIDISED ACCOMMODATION

Students must meet the following general conditions:

- have the status of a person with temporary protection in the Republic of Slovenia,
- have the status of a student being educated under study programmes in the Republic of Slovenia that are carried out as full-time or part-time studies, except for e-studies,
- are not in a employment relationship, or do not perform an independent registered activity, or insured as shareholders of companies or founders of institutions in the Republic of Slovenia, and are not, at the same time, members of the management of such a company or institution under the regulations on compulsory health insurance, and are not recipients of a pension, except for recipients of a survivor's pension.

II. AWARDING OF SUBSIDY

The subsidy for accommodation in a student dormitory is granted for the duration of a study program at the first, second, and third levels, extended by one academic year if the person has student status at that time, and in the cases specified in the third and fourth paragraphs of Article 116 of the Higher Education Act (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia, No. 56/25; hereinafter referred to as the ZViS-1).

The subsidy for accommodation in a student dormitory is granted for the duration of a higher vocational study program. If, during the duration of the a higher vocational study program referred to in the preceding sentence or after its completion, the student has student status in accordance with the fourth indent of the first paragraph of Article 39 or Article 46 of the Higher Vocational Education Act (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia, No. 86/04, 100/13, 54/22 - ZUPŠ-1, 95/23 - ZIUOPZP, 102/23), the subsidy is also granted for that period.

If a student has already received a housing subsidy while enrolled in a higher vocational study program, they must submit an application for admission when changing their program of study by enrolling in a study program at the first, second, and third levels.

Students enrolled in a concurrent study program at the first, second, and third levels are also eligible for subsidized housing for that concurrent program, provided they enroll in the concurrent program at the same level by the start of the second year of the first program, in which they have been making regular progress and in which they were regularly enrolled. If an individual student is concurrently enrolled in multiple study programs at the first, second, and third levels or if they are concurrently enrolled in a higher vocational study program and a study programs at the first, second, and third levels, only the study program in which they were enrolled at the start of receiving the subsidy is considered regarding the duration of the study program.

If a student changes their higher vocational study program or a study program at the first, second, and third levels, the duration of the study program shall be determined by the program in which the student is enrolled during the specific academic year for which they are claiming subsidized housing, in which case the duration of the subsidized residence prior to the change of study program is counted toward the duration of the subsidized residence.

Subsidy for accommodation is reduced proportionately relative to the year the student attends when the subsidy is first awarded.

Students with special needs and students with special status are provided with subsidized housing in accordance with the provisions of the third paragraph of Article 115 of ZVIS-1.

Subsidy for accommodation is awarded for accommodation at the place where the studies are taking place (seat or a separate unit of the higher education institution), if vacancies for admission or extension of accommodation are planned there in accordance with point VI of the call for applications.

In case the number of submitted eligible applications exceeds the number of beds available under this call for applications, the applications will be ranked in order of priority according to the date and time of the application. In the case of applications received simultaneously, priority will be given to students whose temporary residence is further away from the place of study (the higher education institution's headquarters or the short-cycle higher education institution's the headquarters where the student is enrolled). The shortest distance in kilometres between the student's temporary residence and the headquarters of the higher education institution or the headquarters of the short-cycle higher education institution will be taken into account. Google Maps is used to calculate the distance.

The students referred to in the previous paragraph will be invited to move in until the available number of beds is occupied, while the others will be offered the possibility of private accommodation to options as specified in point 10 of the Open call for admission and extension of accommodation of short-cycle higher education and higher education students in student halls of residence and in private accommodation for the 2026/2027 academic year.

In accordance with decision No 6000-8/2026-3360-12 of 3. 4. 2026 on the subsidisation of student accommodation for the academic year 2026/2027, the monthly subsidy for the accommodation of students who meet the conditions and criteria set out in the Rules of Procedure for the academic year 2026/2027 shall be as follows:

- EUR 41,46 per student in public student residences and boarding schools;
- in private student residences and private students' residences EUR 103,36 per student.

The Council of the European Union published Council Implementing Decision (EU) 2025/1460 of 15 July 2025 extending the temporary protection as established by Implementing Decision (EU) 2022/382, which extended the temporary protection for persons displaced from Ukraine referred to in Article 2 of Implementing Decision (EU) 2022/382 until of 4 March 2026. In view of the above, pursuant to the second paragraph of Article 49. of the Act on Temporary Protection of Displaced Persons (Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia, No. 22/25) students who are persons of temporary protection and who are selected in accordance with the provisions of this call in the academic year 2026/2027, students who are persons with temporary protection and who are selected in accordance with the provisions of this call for proposals will be entitled to stay in the accommodation facilities referred to in point VI of this call for proposals until 4 March 2027.

III. APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION

III.A) Deadline for submission of application

Applications for admission are submitted by students with the status of a person with temporary protection who wish to have subsidised accommodation in public dormitories for university students and dormitories for secondary school students.

A student submits the application for admission in person or by registered mail on the form "Application for admission for subsidised accommodation of students with the status of a person with temporary protection for the 2026/2027 study year". A student can submit this application anytime by 4 March 2027. Students who submit their application for admission by 18 August 2026 will be given the first consideration (this applies to students for whom it can be established that the general conditions are met). A student can submit only one application.

III.B) Evidence for verification of the general conditions and fulfilment of the criteria for subsidised accommodation

Mandatory proof that the student must enclose with the application:

- proof of status of a person with temporary protection for the student,
- proof of the status of a person with temporary protection for their child if the student wishes to live with their child,
- certificate from the competent authority that the student with a disability is entitled to an assistant if they want to live with the assistant.

For the procedure, the Student Dormitory Office will itself obtain:

- information from the record of students and graduates on student status for the 2026/2027 year from the eVŠ portal.

IV. APPLICATION FOR EXTENSION

IV.A) Deadline for submission of application

Applications for an extension of accommodation are submitted by students with the status of a person with temporary protection who had subsidised accommodation in public dormitories for university students and dormitories for secondary school students in the 2025/2026 study year and:

- who completed in the 2025/2026 study year a first- or second-cycle study programme or an integrated masters' study programme and will enrol in a second- or third-cycle study programme (this also applies to those who will complete the study programme after the deadline to submit the application),
- who completed in the 2025/2026 study year a short-cycle higher education study programme and will enrol in a first-cycle study programme (this also applies to those who will complete the study programme after the deadline to submit the application),
- did not move out of public dormitories for university students or for secondary school students;
- whose right to subsidised accommodation (and, consequently, the accommodation contract) has not expired because they do not fulfil the conditions from Chapter I of this call for applications, which must be met by students with the status of a person with temporary protection to obtain subsidised accommodation, or in accordance with paragraph six of Article 13 of the Rules on student accommodation.

A student submits the application for extension in person or by registered mail on the form "Application for admission and extension of subsidised accommodation of students with the status of a person with temporary protection for the 2026/2027 study year". A student can submit this application by 18 August 2026. A student can submit only one application.

IV.B) Evidence for verification of the general conditions and fulfilment of the criteria for subsidised accommodation

Mandatory proof that the student must enclose with the application:

- proof of status of a person with temporary protection for the student,
- proof of the status of a person with temporary protection for their child if the student wishes to live with their child,
- certificate from the competent authority that the student with a disability is entitled to an assistant if they want to live with the assistant.

For the procedure, the Student Dormitory Office will itself obtain:

- information from the record of students and graduates on student status for the 2026/2027 year from the eVŠ portal.

V. NOTIFICATION OF STUDENTS

The student dormitory offices issue a decision stating that the conditions for subsidised accommodation have been fulfilled to students with the status of a person with international protection as referred to in point III.A) of this call for applications within one month from the submission of the application. After this decision becomes final, the student is invited to move into a dormitory for secondary school students or a public or private dormitory for university students. In the event of an extension of subsidised accommodation, student dormitory offices issue the decision expectedly by 19 October 2026.
